Explore the Future of Mining : Innovation, Sustainability, and Growth

Mining Indonesia 2025, the premier international mining exhibition, where industry leaders gather to showcase the latest advancements in mining technology, sustainable practices, and industry solutions. As the largest mining event in Southeast Asia, Mining Indonesia continues to be the most anticipated platform for the mining sector in the region.

Indonesia's Growing Mining Sector

Indonesia, home to some of the world's largest mineral reserves, plays a crucial role in the global supply chain of key commodities. With 42.3% of the world's nickel reserves, significant coal production capacity, and vast resources of bauxite, tin, and copper, Indonesia is a powerhouse in the global mining industry (CSIS, Business Indonesia).

As the world accelerates towards a low-carbon future, the role of mining in providing the critical minerals needed for renewable energy and electric vehicles has never been more important. Mining Indonesia 2025 will highlight sustainable mining practices, technological innovations, and strategies to mitigate environmental impacts, ensuring that the sector can continue to thrive in harmony with environmental goals.

With Indonesia's mining sector poised for continued development, Mining Indonesia 2025 is your gateway to unlocking the nation's potential and harnessing the riches that await. Further underscoring the importance of mining in Indonesia, the government, through the Ministry of Economic Affairs, is actively pursuing its goal of establishing 53 smelters with a total investment value of US$21.59 billion between 2021 and 2024, aligning with the nation's vigorous downstream initiatives.

Join us as we delve deeper into Indonesia's mining landscape, and together, we'll shape the future of this essential industry, fostering both economic growth and sustainability.

INDONESIA MINE-FACTS

The mining sector contributed 11.85% to Indonesia's GDP in the first quarter of 2023.

Compared with the world's total reserves, Indonesia's mineral reserves are ranked 5th for gold, 7th for copper, 6th for nickel, 2nd for tin, 6th for bauxite, and 10th for coal

Indonesia, holding the largest nickel reserves globally at approximately 42.3% of the world's supply, has become a leading player in nickel production—essential for electric vehicle (EV) batteries—with investment in nickel smelting surging and over 40 smelters operating by mid-2023.

EXHIBITOR TESTIMONIAL

I would say we are very happy, and we already book for the next year. Being a new player in the market, we want to demonstrate our presence and connect with important customers in the mining industry. Our presence here have already exceeded our expectations to a very high degree, and we are confident that next year will be even better.
